"Take a group of well qualified students from across the world. Combine with political scientists and historians who are leaders in their various fields. Add intensive classes, cultural visits and enjoyable leisure. Set it all within the beautiful and historic Nafplio, first capital of modern Greece. Result: a remarkable educational experience known as the Olympia Summer Academy".

John Breuilly, Professor of Nationalism and Ethnicity, London School of Economics.

Join us and benefit from:

- a faculty at the cutting edge of academic research;
- a student-centered approach, where faculty and students are actively engaged in the learning experience both inside and outside the classroom;
- a worldwide scholarly network that brings together a highly diverse and talented group of about 100 students and professors from more than 30 countries each year;
- a program with a tremendous social dynamic, where the intellectual bonds and relationships formed during its course continue long after its conclusion;
- a picturesque venue where antiquity meets modernity.

Background Information

The Olympia Summer Academy (OSA) was established in 2002 with the dual purpose of creating a forum for high quality academic work and a platform for the creation and consolidation of scholarly networks of cooperation. This purpose has been served well. Since its establishment the Academy continues to grow both in size and reputation. Indeed, the OSA, which started with one program/cycle only, it now offers six. It has also acquired a stellar reputation not only for its high academic standards but also for its distinct identity that blends effectively the scholarly exchange with the friendly atmosphere, thus providing participants with the opportunity of a multicultural and holistic academic experience.

As of 2014, the Academy is co-organized with the European International Studies Association (EISA). The 2019 Academy was held in Nafplion, Greece, from July 7 to 16, attracting 18 professors and 107 qualified participations (including professionals) from 28 countries.

Academic Structure

The Academy was an eight working days high-level teaching activity where six carefully defined conflict and international studies related areas were treated in depth. The teaching cycles/programs that comprise the OSA were:

- Conflict & Political Violence (8 working days)
- Terrorism and European Security (8 working days)
- Democratic vs Authoritarian Capitalism (4 working days)
- The Making and Unmaking of the Modern Middle East (4 working days)
- Remaking Europe at a Time of Crisis (4 working days)
- Political Risk Analysis (4 working days)

Testimonials

As an "Olympian" I expanded and deepened my knowledge in a variety of serious global issues, such as European security, political violence, and risk analysis. In terms of networking and socializing, the OSA facilitated off-classroom interaction and social happenings which played a crucial role to creating bonds with the participants from all programs. It wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that by the graduation day we had all become a big family. I would also like to highlight that our professors contributed their utmost in creating a friendly and inspiring atmosphere. I would not have been able to live this magical experience, if I hadn't received the scholarship from the Public Benefit Foundation John S. Latsis. Lastly, I would like to thank the leading and organizing team of OSA which was tremendously supportive and considerate throughout this journey.

Konstantinos Georgiou, BA Candidate, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki

The 2019 Olympia Summer Academy provided me with a valuable opportunity to experience a truly amazing academic program with scholars from all around the globe. Having the chance to listen, to learn, and to share in a beautiful venue at the Mediterranean Sea in intellectually rich cycles was easily one of the highlights during my studies so far. The combination of skillful organizers, highly motivated lecturers, and a richly varied student body ensured a pleasant and inspiring atmosphere which I genuinely hope to enjoy again in the years to come.

Peter Wedekind, PhD Candidate, Charles University, Prague

Testimonials

Having attended the 2019 Olympia Summer Academy is one of the best choices I have ever made in my academic career. In those ten intensive days I did not only gain in depth knowledge upon issues related to my professional field, but also, met young aspiring professionals with whom I could collaborate in the future. The experts who taught us were the best in their field and very friendly towards the participants, making the whole teaching -learning experience one of a kind. To conclude, I would like to thank wholeheartedly Public Benefit Foundation John S. Latsis for the full scholarship and the amazing opportunity they granted me.
